The Band

Founded in Ecuador in 2013, Santamuerte is a visceral Punk Blues duo made up of Juan F. Rojas and Sebastián Tamariz K. With a raw guitar-and-drums format, they have transformed the Ecuadorian underground into a globally impactful project, reaching syncs on Netflix and Universal Studios, as well as recognition from The New York Times.

The band currently presents their third LP, Krankenhaus (2026) —produced by Daniel Alba—, a testimony of introspection and catharsis that comes to life on stage through an immersive theatrical ritual, where a coffin and an uncompromising sonic and visual assault defy the fear of death.
